JERRY PATE COMPANY NEWS

COMMERCIAL, IRRIGATION, & GROUNDS

Under this new program there will be no payments on all eligible Toro commercial equipment until May, 2021.

Just as golfers can't afford to waste shots, golf course superintendents and managers can't afford to waste time and materials. Two new products from Toro help maintain ideal course conditions efficiently and effectively.

The NozzAlert™ Flow Monitoring System helps prevent the misapplication and over-, or under-spraying of costly chemicals, and the built-in guidance of the Multi Pro® 5800 with GeoLink AS (autosteer) sprayer virtually eliminates overlap spraying or missed target areas.

Toro's line of high-performance rotors for Sports Fields and other recreational spaces can help you maintain the beauty and playability of your turf, whether natural or synthetic, better than anyone else. Unique options, such as Valve-in-Head models, low flow nozzles, and long radius capabilities will have your field ready on game day and every day in between. Click Here to learn more.

TORO INFINITY STEALTH

Toro's INFINITY Stealth Kits can be installed onto any INFINITY sprinkler, allowing turf growth directly atop the sprinkler to eliminate the hard surface bounce, adding to the beauty of the course and improving labor efficiency. This kit can be seen in use on the Dan Yates Putting Green at Bobby Jones Golf Course in Atlanta, GA, among many other turf surfaces across the country.

DESIGN

Dan Yates Putting Green at Bobby Jones Golf Club

The Dan Yates Putting Green, named in honor of the late P. Dan Yates, was recently shaped, constructed, and sprigged at the Bobby Jones Golf Club in Atlanta, GA. Inspired by the Himalayas Putting Greens at St Andrews Golf Links in Scotland, this green is expected to bring challenging fun for years to come. Jerry Pate Design was honored to work alongside Danny & Lois Yates, Bobby Cupp Jr., Kyle MacDonald & his team, the Bobby Jones Golf Course Foundation, Landscapes Unlimited, Bulk Aggregate, and Jerry Pate Turf & Irrigation on this fantastic project.
